Teammates designs JeHN Engineering

Teammates Commercial Interiors recently completed commercial office design and installation services for JeHN Engineering's new LEED Silver corporate headquarters located in "Old Arvada." JeHN engineering is a locally owned civil engineering firm, headquartered in Arvada for more than 25 years.

Teammates furnished all areas of its new headquarters from workstations and training rooms to breakrooms and architectural walls.

The interior walls were constructed almost entirely of Teknion's Altos Architectural Walls. These walls surrounded the interior offices with lowered glass panels - allowing maximum light flow throughout the space. Altos' ability to enable glass panels, its product reusability, and its multiple certifications and compliances contributed significantly to JeHN's LEED certification goals.
